IN THE HIGH COURT OF JUDICATURE AT PATNA
CR. REV. No.691 of 2004
SURESH YADAV
Versus
STATE OF BIHAR & ORS
---

9. 29.7.2008. Heard the learned counsel for the petitioner.

Perused the impugned order. On perusal of the impugned order, it appears that the court below has properly discussed all the evidence and material on the record and has come a definite finding with regard to innocence of the opposite parties. Accordingly, the court below has acquitted all the accused persons.

Upon consideration of the submission of the learned counsel for the petitioner as well as the judgment in question, I am of the view that the court below has rightly acquitted all the accused person. It is not a fit case for interference in the impugned order.

Accordingly, this revision application is dismissed at the admission stage.
